December 2017

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Looking Back

I hope you all are enjoying the holiday season, and that those of you in Southern California have not been too impacted by these menacing fires. As I reflect on the past year, we have been faced with many challenges, but have still accomplished much of what we set out to do. It has been a pleasure working with the very capable CDA Board and IDA staff this past year to communicate, advocate and deliver value to all of our members. As my term as President comes to a close, I want to thank everyone for actively participating in CDA whether on legislative calls, board calls or WCUDF planning efforts.

On the legislative front we made some real progress working with our lobbyist, Jason Bryant, on issues that are important to our respective districts including housing, homelessness, public safety and more. Our biggest win was perhaps fighting a bill that would have made responding to public records requests much more onerous. Through this process we came together to strategize our response and use our CDA network to effectively advocate directly to the bill's author.

On the communications front we delivered consistent monthly newsletters with timely news and updates and refreshed our website to better showcase our organization. Our CDA membership has remained steady. The WCUDF in Long Beach was a huge success as many of you can attest to because you came, contributed sponsorships, served on panels and learned best practices by engaging with each other.

Overall, 2017 has been a terrific year for CDA. It is with a sense of collective accomplishment that I now pass the baton to Steven Welliver to build on our success.

Sincerely,

CDA POLICY CORNER

Ballot Initiative Filed to Repeal Costa-Hawkins --- California's Rent Control Law

California cities and counties would be able to expand "rent control" measures under a proposed 2018 statewide ballot measure that was filed in October by leaders of tenant advocacy groups.

The measure would repeal the Costa Hawkins Rental Housing Act, which limits the ability of a city and county governments to enact stronger rent control laws. The Costa-Hawkins Act has prohibited local governments from regulating the price of rents on rental units built after 1995. The law also requires all local rent control ordinances to allow property owners to set the rent at market rate should a tenant vacate the property. Apartment developers and landlord groups are strongly supportive of Costa-Hawkins.

The initiative is supported by several community based organizations including the Alliance of Californians for Community Empowerment and the faith-based organization LA Voice. The effort is supported by major tenant rights groups including groups who have supported local rent control and occasionally have supported growth limitation initiatives.

This year, Assemblyman Richard Bloom (D-Santa Monica), introduced a bill (AB 1506) that would have repealed Costa-Hawkins, but was shelved due to opposition from business, development and multi-family housing builders opposed the legislation. These groups successfully argued that repealing Costa-Hawkins would exacerbate California's housing crisis by deterring new housing construction. Assemblyman Bloom is expected to take up AB 1506 again in January.

The initiative sponsors need to collect roughly 370,000 valid signatures from eligible voters no later than June 2018 in order to qualify the initiative for the November 2018 election. The California Downtown Association Board will continue to monitor the initiative effort and may consider taking a position if the measure qualifies.
